Wildcat Strike Against Airlines Ordered Ended

NEW YORK IN — Striking air line engineers who tied up the nation's air traffic in a "wildcat" walkout today were ordered back on the job at all struck airlines.

The AFL-CIO Flight Engineers International Association said in Washington it has ordered its members to end their strike against at least seven U. S. airlines and return to work.

EARLIER, A separate walkout against Pan American World Airways was ordered ended in the face of an executive order by President Kennedy.

The union order apparently averted the prospect of a lengthy air traffic tieup which had been feared by both union and airline spokesmen.

President Kennedy appointed an emergency board Friday night to inquire into the Pan American dispute.

"IN THE FACE of the Presidential Fact Finding Board being appointed, the picket lines are being removed from any airport from which Pan American is operating," the union spokesman said.

"Union headquarters here has sent word to the men to return to work."

The spokesman said he did not know how soon the engineers would be able to return to the job.

Lumumba Widow Asks Protection

Leopoldville, Congo IN — The United Nations announced today it had flown the widow of slain ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba to Stanleyville although troops in that one-time Lumumba stronghold were reported throwing their support to Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, their enemy.

A U. N. spokesman said Mrs. Pauline Lumumba, 28, the widow of two Lumumba aides slain with him, and 39 other persons who sought U. N. protection were taken at their request to the Oriental Province capital in a U. N. plane.

THE GROUP SAID they feared reprisals by President Joseph Kasavubu's regime if they remained in Leopoldville and preferred to take their chances in Stanleyville where Antoine Gizenga, Lumumba's political heir, has set up a

DESERT FEATURE SET BY HOLIDAY

Modern desert living is too easy for an article on how people adapt to life under the clear, dry, smog-free desert skies, author Robert Carson told The Desert Sun.

Carson, Academy Award winning screen writer, novelist, short-story author and travelogue feature writer, was supposed to be doing an article on the Southern California deserts for "Holiday" magazine, with a slant on adaptations to desert living.

"I COULDN'T FIND anyone who knew he adapted to anything, so that was out," Carson said. The 8,500-10,000 word article will be a personalized reaction to the big desert spaces, and its popular and some lesser-known attractions.

"It will begin — or it does now — with a general conception of the desert," Carson said. Though his petite blonde wife and affectionate critic Mary opposed the "prologue" approach, Carson explained that "many Easterners — who go to Europe but seldom West — still think of desert country as a bunch of sand-dunes with a mud fort out of Beau Geste sticking on a canyon wall somewhere."

"PALM SPRINGS and its background would be an article in itself, but this one will have to cover most of the California desert area," Carson said. He began his trip at Borrego Springs valley, came past the Salton Sea developments, and into the Palm Springs area.

He spent approximately 10 days here. Other legs of the trip will take him to Twentynine Palms, over into the alkali-based flat Mojave desert, and down into the history — shimmering country of Death Valley, Palm Springs, its golf courses, entertainment and gourmet spots will appear in a kaleidoscopic Western variety with such spots as the Tropical Mine off Highway 395 and the haunts of "Seldom Seen Slim" in the Palm-dale-Lancaster end of the arid Mojave.

RIDGECREST AND once-gilded Johannesburg will appear in order with new suburbs featuring redwood patio fences and electric garbage disposals where hard-rock miners once crunched drilling steel into glinting ore veins, with hand-forged double-jacks.

Turning to Hollywood, Carson observed that the days of the great contract lists are gone, with the titans of the industry. "Most writers there now are actually migrant workers," he said. Loosening of censorship, the impact of television, cooperative productions and some foreign inroads on export markets are among reasons Carson sees for the screen decline.

"OF COURSE, THE Federal ruling divorcing production from movie theatres was a mortal blow in itself," he reported.

Movies, which began with westerns — "The Great Train Robbery" — tend to return to westerns as has television, he added.

"For television, it was natural. There is more action on inexpensive sets than the domestic and office things that clogged the 'tee-tee' screen a few years ago," Carson observed. He recalled his suggestion for westerns while a CBS producer was nixed because "women aren't interested in them."

Indians Sign Lease for Golf Course

Site Located

Of Ocotillo Lodge

By FRED C. WEIGEL

The Bureau of Indian Affairs announced today the signing of a long term lease for some 450 acres of land in Palm Springs for a new 18-hole golf country club and exclusive housing development.

Land which has been placed under lease is located south of Ocotillo Lodge on East Palm Canyon Drive, and follows the north side of the wash into Palm Canyon. The land is bordered by South Palm Canyon on the west.

THE DEVELOPMENT, which will be called the Wyndfree Country Club and Wyndfree Country Club Estates, is expected to start construction within the next few weeks.

The lease was signed between the Indians and the Wyndfree Country Club Estates Corporation, which is reportedly directed by a group of men who are directors of the National Realty and Investment Corporation, a well known national investment firm.

WYNDFREE CORPORATION is represented locally by Palm Springs attorney Harold Simon, who has been making many trips to the East to meet with the investors during the past 18 months.

The 18-hole golf course and country club will be constructed similarly to the Thunderbird Country Club, with private luxury homes built around the fairways.

Plane Makes Forced Landing Mile from Goal

A Texas pilot, flying from Austin, Texas, to Palm Springs, ran out of gas just before reaching Palm Springs Airport about 6:15 last night and made a forced landing in a secluded desert area about one mile from the intersection of Date Palm Road and Avenue 34.

Leonard John Lundgren walked away from his plane uninjured as Riverside County Sheriff's deputies arrived at the scene after receiving two telephone calls of the plane going down.

RIVERSIDE—The county Board of Supervisors will hear a report on a request for improvement of the frontage road on the northern side of Highway 111 in Palm Desert, during the regular meeting which convenes here at 10 a.m., Monday.

The request for improvement of the street with curbs and gutters—similar to the improvement on the south side of Highway 111 which is being completed — was made in a letter from Hal Kapp, chairman of the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce's streets and highways committee. Kapp had led the movement for improvement of the southern frontage road, which will be named Palm Desert Drive.

Miscellaneous matters will include consideration of an agreement with the cities of Blythe and Perris for licensing and regulating dogs. Miscellaneous communications include a request from William M. Ryals and others for acceptance of San Jose Avenue north of Catalina Way in Palm Desert; a petition for the paving of Eucalyptus Street north of the Blythe city limits.

THE SUPERVISORS will hear a request from the Coachella Valley Real Estate Board, headed by Milton Hoffman, La Quinta, for a change in R-1 minimum space requirements. The Real Estate

Board is asking an increase from a 750 square foot minimum for single family dwellings to a 1,000 square foot minimum.

R-3 areas, which Hoffman said "would of course permit everything allowed under R-3" is planned for the area. The county planning commission had approved the proposal on increased minimum size after an uncontested hearing last Tuesday.

Injuries, Damage Reported

Winter weather raised havoc Friday night and today forming tornadoes, heavy snow and a glaze of ice.

Tornadoes swirled through Oklahoma Friday night injuring at least 14 persons, demolishing seven buildings and damaging scores of others. Other twisters were reported in Kansas and Arkansas.

A SNOWSTORM pushed eastward from the central Rockies and heavy snow warnings were out for Wyoming, Colorado, South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas.

Freezing rain laid down a broad glaze of ice from the Texas Panhandle northeast to Wisconsin and Lower Michigan. Motorists were warned of hazardous driving conditions and traffic was halted in some areas.

RAIN FELL IN the East, thunderstorms rumbled down the Missouri and Mississippi River valleys and along the Gulf Coast, snow flurries drifted across the North and showers fell in the Pacific Northwest.

Baton Rouge, La., had more than 2 inches of rain and nearly two inches fell at Olathe, Kan.

Weathermen warned of another hazard in southern New Mexico's desert—blowing dirt.

A tornado swirled through the business district of Oklawaha, Okla., Friday night destroying six buildings and damaging others. High winds picked up and overturned a car near Wetumka, Okla. Buildings were damaged in a 30-block area of Wewoka, Okla., and a tornado tore the roof off one building and damaged others at Stratford, Okla.

Special to The Desert Sun
BANNING — A modern, fully equipped printing plant has been installed and is now in operation at Basil Brewer Boys Town of the Desert, it was announced this week by the Rev. Francis A. Nightengale, executive director of Boys Town.

Disneyland Trip Set for Sun's Carriers

'Never Completed' Park to Lure Carriers on Feb. 26

Carrier boys of the Palm Springs Desert Sun will have an opportunity to observe at first hand the results of Walt Disney's promise that "Disneyland will never be completed" when they visit Disney's "Magic Kingdom" on Feb. 26.

Disney made the statement, an avowal that new entertainments would be introduced at Disneyland regularly, when the world-famous Anaheim amusement center was opened to the public in July of 1955. The Academy Award winning filmmaker has kept the promise each year since then.

LATEST IN THE LONG list of Disneyland attractions are two new adventures and the addition, as a free attraction presented by the Bell Telephone System, of a unique film exhibition, "America the Beautiful," shown in Circarama.

Most ambitious of the new attractions is "Nature's Wonderland," located in the Frontierland area of the Park. It is a seven-acre "living wilderness" that has been completely developed at a cost of $1.8 million. Nature's Wonderland recreates with amazing authenticity the forest, mountain and desert areas of western North America. It has been "stocked" with more than 200 life-like animated animals, birds and reptiles.

Animals range from the giant elk and playful bear down to the tiny road runner and elusive mar-

THE "SHOW" IN Nature's Wonderland is based on the famous Disney True Life Adventure Films of a few years ago that exhibited wilderness animals in their natural habitat. "Beaver Valley," "Bear Country," "Olympic Elk" and the "Living Desert" are only a few of the films whose content has guided the design of the new area.

The animals are given life through a Disney Studio process called "Audio Animatronics," described as the most advanced form of animal animation yet developed.

It enables beavers to swim, build dams and slap their tails as a warning signal; bears to fish and scratch their backs against tree trunks; and bobcats to climb trees to threaten a nest of baby hawks.

IN THE TOMORROWLAND section of the Park, a whole new exhibit, "The Art of Animation," describing animation attempts from earliest history to the latest refinements in the field, is new.

Visitors take a walk-through of the entire process, including "backstage" looks at advanced techniques used at the Walt Disney Burbank Studios for animated features recently produced.

"America the Beautiful," presented by the Bell Telephone System as a free attraction, is exhibited in spectacular Circarama, the film process that completely surrounds the viewer.

The film displays many of America's natural and man-made wonders.

COUNTY IN STALL ON CAPITAL JOBS

Action on proposed capital outlay projects was delayed by the Board of Supervisors this week for two weeks.

Supervisor George Berkey continued to urge that architectural work be facilitated at least on some of the needed projects outlined by Administrative Officer Robert Anderson, but argued with the other supervisors that there should be knowledge of what further demands there may be on the remaining unappropriated reserve fund, now slightly below $250,000.

SUPERVISOR FRED McCall warned that Welfare Director John McIntyre is going to request additional funds "which will practically wipe out what is left in the unappropriated reserve fund."

Supervisor Paul Anderson estimated that McIntyre will have to have $113,000 for aid to needy children and general relief, and $6,000 to $7,000 for the disabled. "There will only be about $120,000 left after the welfare demands are met," he declared. "We should impress on department heads that they must get along for the balance of this fiscal year (to July 1) without additional personnel."

"PROVEN NEEDS for capital outlay should be taken care of,"

Louisianans Visit Ex-Neighbors

By ELLEN SAUNDERS

The Fred Schweitzers of De Ridder, La., have just arrived to spend several weeks as the houseguests of their former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Chester. The Schweitzers were reported to be thrilled at the progress this town has made since their first visit here four years ago.

Sightseeing trips to Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm and other tourist attractions are planned.

Mrs. Frank Kibbey, Sr., planned in last week from a vacation in Honolulu, a bit tired from the rough weather encountered on her return flight but enthusiastic about Hawaii. She and her mother, Mrs. Daisy Thompson of Yucaipa, spent several days at Pearl Harbor with her son, Edward and his family, then sojourned at Waikiki Beach for the remainder of their stay.

Highlights of the trip included dinner at Don the Beachcomber, a plane trip to the Island of Hawaii, a cruise of Pearl Harbor and breakfast with Bet Addington.

Mrs. Sarah Weiss has been entertaining several houseguests from Pasadena, among them the Willard Newhausers and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schneider and son, Roger, formerly of Vienna, Austria.

The morning mail brought a note from Judge Emanuel Beloff of Philadelphia who recently vacationed here at the Caravan Motel, stating that he hoped in the years to come to spend much more time in Desert Hot Springs.

James McLaughlin (he owns McLaughlin's Manor) is making a good recovery from major surgery performed recently at the Fairview Hospital in Arlington, but will not be back home for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Mae Miskell and her sister, Mrs. Leola Bryant of Coronado, who are visiting in town for a few days, were guests of honor at a Valentine's Day luncheon given and took part in many question-and-answer periods with the boys about the use and care of printing equipment.

FATHER NIGHTENGALE and Father Robert Nikilborc, associate director, and the Brothers of Charity who conduct the work of Boys Town, expressed great surprise and pleasure at the printing shop addition to the school's program.

"We are eager to get under way with this new project," Father Nightengale said, "almost as eager as the boys themselves."

He paid tribute to Brewer's interest in Boys Town.

"ALTHOUGH HE is a busy man," Father Nightengale said, "he is always available for wise counsel and practical advice when we turn to him. Now this printing plant will be a great help to us in preparing our boys for useful and productive lives in an exciting and rewarding profession."

Som 400 boys have attended the school since the current program was begun in 1956 by Father Nightengale, founder of the Brothers of Charity.

BASIL BREWERS Boys Town of the Desert is a haven for homeless boys. It welcomes boys, who for one reason or another, have developed adjustment or emotional problems. Some come from broken homes, some have been subjected to unfortunate environmental influences, and many are rejected children who have never been in a situation where they have been accepted as worthwhile human beings.

But whatever his reason for his becoming a resident of Basil Brewer's Boys Town, at this desert residence — located on a 300-acre site — each boy gets the schooling normal for his age, plus the chance for adult supervision, and "the feeling of belonging."

THE NEW PRINTING shop has been worked into the regular vocational program which includes woodworking, masonry experience, and ceramics, along with studies in agriculture, landscape gardening, animal husbandry, bee keeping and numerous other occupations. A boy may also receive expert instruction in drafting, electronics, and mechanical drawing among other skills.

There is no restriction as to race or religion at the school. The school accepts Caucasian boys, Spanish-American boys, Negro boys, Indian boys and Orientals from many lands.

The boys range in age from 12 through 17.

BREWER HAS been interested in Boys Town for some time. His interest was climaxed in 1959 when the town was renamed in his honor by the Most Rev. Charles Francis Buddy, bishop of the San Diego Catholic Diocese.

For many years Brewer has been a regular visitor to Palm Springs and has a wide acquaintanceship here. He made his first visits there long before the area spot became a famous winter resort.

Brewer expects to inspect the new printing shop when he visits the resident priests and brothers at Banning shortly.

Other Land Uses In Section 18 Outlined by Group

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last in a series of questions and answers concerning the March 14 Airport bond election, compiled by the Airport Committee. Any person having additional questions may submit them in writing to The Desert Sun, and answers will be obtained.)

28. Q. What are the present related uses located at the airport?
A. Bird Oxygen (treat patients and training center for doctors, etc.); Pacific Associates (sales distributor for mining and spraying equipment); Portable Helicopter (manufacturing and testing); flying school, airplane rental, Tele-Trip Insurance, Hertz Rent-a-Car, California Rent Car, Shell Oil Co.; restaurant, airplane maintenance, storage for aircraft, and tie-down facilities.

29. Q. What condition exists in Palm Springs as an aid to airport safety?

A. Good flying weather conditions.

31. Q. Will a traffic control tower be provided?

A. Yes, after approval by FAA. Volume of traffic justifies such an installation. The cost of operation is borne by the FAA.

32. Q. Will Palm Springs become a jet airport?

A. No, this is a feeder airport, jet service is not economically feasible.

33. Q. Will it be necessary to lengthen our runway?

A. No, the trend for both commercial and military plane designers is to make aircraft capable of using short runways, eliminating the need for longer and longer landing surfaces.

34. Q. How could the airport be operated?

A. The Airport Executive Committee recommends that the airport be placed under the administration of a commission.

Dr. Andrew O. Fitzmorris, Palm Springs internist and cardiologist, has been named Heart Fund chairman for the February drive here, it was announced by Dr. Fred Havens, president of the County Heart Association.

In accepting the appointment for the second year, Dr. Fitzmorris explained that the Heart Fund is the only national drive which raises fund solely for research and education on the heart and circulatory diseases.

"DUE TO THE dynamic advances made in the past ten years through Heart Research we are on the brink of discoveries which can save countless lives," he pointed out.

"Our goal," he said, "is to find the causes and preventive measures which will put an end to the tragic waste of life caused by heart disease."

ALTHOUGH GREAT scientific advances have given Americans new hope that further controls and possible prevention of some heart and blood vessel diseases will be achieved within the next decade, deaths from cardiovascular disorders each year still exceed the total number of deaths from all other causes combined," he concluded.

February has been named national Heart Month, co-chaired by Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart surgeon and Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Persons or organizations wishing to aid in the Village Heart Fund drive may contact Dr. Fitzmorris at 325-2644.

Patrol Fees Unchanged in County Law

Supervisors Vote New Ordinance But Retain Fees

After arguing for some time that fees are too high for registration certificates for private patrol services and their patrolmen in the new ordinance to regulate private patrol, Supervisor Norman Davis voted with the other four supervisors this week to adopt the measure without changing the fees.

"I'm in favor of the ordinance except for the fees," said Davis. "The individual patrolman does not make much money. An initial fee of $25 and yearly renewal fee of $10 is too high for him."

AS TO THE $50 initial fee for operation of a service with yearly renewal of $25, Davis said he couldn't believe the cost to the county could warrant it.

He noted that some of the services will be required by the ordinance to repaint their autos and buy new uniforms for their patrolmen. This is to avoid possibility that they might be mistaken for officers of the law.

ADMINISTRATIVE Officer Robert T. Andersen assured Davis that so far as can be determined the fees will no more than cover costs to the county. He said the costs of investigation of an applicant for initial registration, contacting FBI and so forth is heavy and all costs have been estimated carefully.

"A lot of work is involved," agreed Supervisor Supervisor William Jones.

ASSEMBLYMAN WANTS BIG, STATEWIDE LOTTERY

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A proposal to collect more than $1 billion a year through a statewide lottery was made in the legislature today.

Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee, R-Salinas, introduced a resolution asking for a two-year study of a lottery as a tax collection gimmick.

"This could practically pay our state aid to schools," Pattee told reporters. "It might put a halt to any more property tax increases and I would hope that it would put a stop to tax increases on the state level, too."

Dimes Campaign Misses in DHS

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — The 1961 March of Dimes campaign here fell short of its $550 goal by approximately $200, chairman Earl Farmer reported.

Farmer stated that most funds raised came from street solicitations and donations of civic groups. Farmer emphasized his thanks to teen-agers Dorothy Leonard, Shirley Johnson, Jerree Hill, Alice Boling, Heather Rutherford, Lillian Brannon and Mardur Schoellin for their aid in the campaign.

After Brunch Wedding for George Laine, Jan Weishapl

In the month of hearts and flowers, two days before Valentine's Day, Desert Sun's news editor George Laine gave up his bachelorhood and acquired a bride, Janice Marie Weishapl, in one of the most unusual and colorful of Palm Springs weddings.

In some ways it was traditional. The bride wore white, an organza gown with tiered skirt and with blue forget-me-nots embroidered on the bodice. She carried a wedding bouquet of white carnations and her brown hair was topped by a circular wedding veil. She was a lovely bride as she tossed the wedding bouquet, cut the cake, drank a champagne toast and ducked a shower of rice with her new husband.

The maid of honor Hope Young wore a blue chiffon sheath and carried white carnations, interspersed with blue ribbons. Best man was Larry Foy, who presides at the copper piano at The Dunes and only gets up afternoons to be best man at some friend's wedding.

The pair repeated their wedding vows in conventional fashion before Superior Court Judge Merrill Brown, wearing his judicial robes. A chacha beat from the downstairs jam session drifted in as the bridegroom said "I do."

The setting was a bit unusual, as the wedding took place in the Naughty Nineties Room at the Ranch Club, where the bride is employed as bookkeeper. It was at 3:30 p.m., right after the Sunday Brunch, and most of the entertainers came up for the reception.

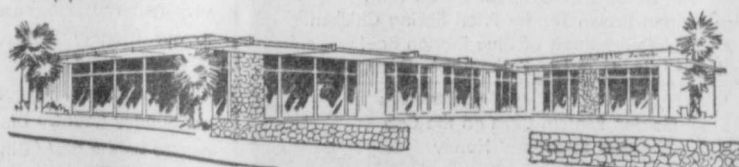

The music was traditional enough, "When I Fall in Love" and "This Is My Beloved" sung by the Hilltop Room's handsome young singer Bob Newkirk, with Gil Bouer at the piano. But, there was another song too, an original which Bouer composed for the occasion... "We Had a Whale of a Wedding."

At the wedding reception, which was hosted by the Noel Clarkes, Ranch Club owners, champagne punch was served with a wedding cake creation from Brewsters, which was topped by a pair

Around Town

... with Hildy Crawford

The grandeur that is Don Loper... was readily apparent in the collection of Ready-For-You-Now and Custom clothes presented in his luncheon show here at the Palm Springs Riviera this week...

... It was apparent in the magnificent fabrics... in the new illusion coats of chiffon... collared, cuffed and banded matching satin... in the elegant floor-length gowns and in the bell-shaped and almond-shaped gowns... all of them completely feminine... entrancing exponents of the Loper theory that...

"there's nothing wrong with a girl looking like a girl"... He's proved it again... with gowns and wraps that look like they had sprung full-fashioned from the head of Loper... without benefit of cutting or stitching or styling.

The Mediterranean Room was a picture... with floral arrangements of mauve tulips and white canation sprays on each blue-clothed table... and the stage was transformed into a garden of flowers to serve as a background for the fabulous clothes...

Pink flowering peach trees stood against an arbor covered with green lemon leaves... with masses of pink azaleas and white Italian statuary as accents... and a low fencing of white tulips and stock across the front of the stage...

A bottle of champagne in a napkin bucket of ice... foreshadowed the arrival of the Master of Design... Don Loper... who made a dramatic entrance with the spotlight following him from the front door... to the table where he stopped to greet Joie and Eva Gabor and Lily Pons...

... and up on to the stage...

Wearing a handsomely tailored black silk suit... the Loper wit was sparkling... and he gave out with repartee... clasped a model in his arms... to dance to the music of Bernie Richards and his orchestra...

The Loper skirts were short... without showing the knee... colors were subtle... parchment to fawn beiges... pale to rosy pinks... and dramatic black and white... like the white gown with the bell-shaped skirt... with jet embroidery trailing down the front...

There was abbreathaking silk organza... with pink and blue petit point floral embroidery said to be an exact duplicate of a fabric created for Madame DuBarry

'MINISTER OF HATE'

Goebbels' Story On Century TV

The terrifying story of a ruthless manipulator whose mastery of propaganda methods had a great nation marching on the road to barbarism, will be told on "Minister of Hate" — the career of Joseph Goebbels — on "The Twentieth Century" Sunday, Feb. 10 (6:30 - 7 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network. Walter Cronkite will narrate.

With actual films of Goebbels in action, and commentary by H. R. Trevor Roper, distinguished British chronicler of the Third Reich's collapse, "The Twentieth Century" will examine the world of a mad genius who devoted his life to merchandising a mad comedy called Adolf Hitler. Of his first meeting with Hitler, Goebbels once said:

"I DIDN'T KNOW what was happening. It was as though guns were thundering. I was beside myself. Then for a moment the man up there looked at me. His blue eyes met my glance like a flame. This was a command. At that moment I was reborn. Now I knew which road to take."

INCLUDED IS a reminiscence by Germany's great film director Fritz Lang of a Kalkaeskue "interview" with Goebbels, after Lang had made the quickly-suppressed anti-Hitler film "The Last Will of Dr. Mabuse."

H. R. Trevor Roper is the author of "The Last Days of Hitler." He was commissioned by the British government after World War II to search out the truth about Hitler's fate, when rumors of the Fuehrer's survival began to circulate.

Spring Byington Guest of Dennis

Guest star Spring Byington is the celebrity Mr. Wilson wants to sign up for his forthcoming lodge party in "Dennis's Birthday" on "Dennis the Menace" Sunday, Feb. 19 (7:30 - 8 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network.

Miss Byington is visiting a friend of Dennis and in order to get in touch with her, Wilson has to do his rusty magic act at Dennis's birthday party. Miss Byington, a guest at the party, is maneuvered into being the magician's assistant — and learns, much to her discomfort, that being brought back is more difficult than being made to disappear.

AFTER SUNSET

Museum a Fighter In War for the Arts

By GEORGE LAINE

The mailbag continues to bring this corner a sampling of far-flung opinions on the status of things cultural in Palm Springs. Many of these opinions faithfully mirror my own view, as does the one that follows herewith:

Dear George,

In regard to your "Cultural War" column and the Classic Films Festival, I should like to fill in some gaps in your information. The Desert Museum will agree that this is the first "festival" of classic motion pictures, but during the '53-'54 museum season we showed film classics free of charge. This program was discontinued when one of Palm Springs' "first citizens" decided we were competing with his program of comparable films . . . which we were.

Even though we halted our Film Classic Series, we still sandwiched in numerous film classics (and potential classics) among our week-end programs.

And, as long as we're discussing "our cultural war," we call to your attention several American Federation of Arts travelling exhibitions which have been displayed in the Desert Museum, the Long Beach Museum of Art exhibition (Arts of Southern California: IV) shown here; various lectures and lecture demonstrations (including Joseph Young on mosaics) that would rank high in the culture heap.

We are not a rusty-dusty-rocks-and-stuffed-birds museum. We applaud the Desert Art Center's new Festival of Film Classics — or they would not be shown in our building — but we wish that sometimes the Desert Museum would receive some applause for our own efforts.

Dr. C. E. Smith,

Palm Springs

And add your showing of that exemplary alignment of photographs in the Life exhibition, too. Dr. Smith, I'm not arguing, however, for one artistic display over another. What the community needs — and I'm sure you'll agree — is a widely varied schedule of events that embrace all the arts. The Classic Film Festival is one of these (like the Desert Museum).

Dear George,

Read your column every day, being a regular subscriber of Ye Desert Sun . . .

After 21 years of residence at this address, we have definitely made up our minds to sell, which we have done, and within the next week we'll be permanent residents of Palm Springs.

I've just finished another 12 weeks at Diamond Lil's in Riverside, a sensational place for you to stop in . . . floor shows and right overhead Gay Nineties girls dancing . . . right in your drink . . . catch the lucky red garter . . .

The help I need is from one of your realtor friends, E. R. and I need a three bedroom home, pool optional. Maybe you know of a cute place for us. We'll call when we get there.

Jeanne Keller,

Hollywood

I'll tell you what, Jeanne. Let's look for a six bedroom house and split it. I'm looking for a bigger place myself. But if any of my realtor friends can come up with something, I'll let you know. (In the meantime, don't put your music away. I want to see you working somewhere around town.)

Hi George,

Just returned from Oregon and signed an eight-week contract for Fairbanks, Alaska.

See you later.

Practice Brotherhood Every Day

Prejudice has no place in a Democracy, and the best time to review your own attitudes and beliefs is during Brotherhood Week, which starts today.

Special events are planned in Palm Springs as well as throughout the United States, under the sponsorship of the National Conference of Christian and Jews.

Mayor Frank Bogert has officially proclaimed the week here, and urges participation by word and deed of all residents and visitors.

Purpose of Brotherhood Week is to give people an opportunity to rededicate themselves as individuals to the ideals of respect for people and human right—to learn to accept or reject a person strictly on his merits as a human being and not because he happens to be different in creed, race or national origin.

During this coming week: Believe Brotherhood! Live Brotherhood! Support Brotherhood!

And then extend Brotherhood Week into a full year.

Fruit from GOP Trees

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Richard Nixon, although as ambitious as they come, has named two circumstances under which he prefers never to be President.

First, he doesn't want to win, as a certain heavyweight champion once took the title, by writhing on the floor and shouting foul. Second, he doesn't want to come into office by defeating a "Hoover Administration," achieving his success as the result of national depression and suffering.

THESE HIGH-MINDED positions are not enough, of themselves, to suggest that Nixon, vacationing in the West Indies, may be reluctantly enjoying his rival's early success. But there is another factor in the equation. It would be strange if Nixon hasn't noticed from a distance that President Kennedy has been succeeding in a large part because he's adopting significant portions of the Nixon program and philosophy.

There must be some satisfaction here for the loser of last year's election. After all, if a man doesn't win, he ought to get some sort of wry pleasure in seeing his ideas thrive. Years ago the fine Navy athlete and stepphase rider, the late Victor Noyes, was enduring a streak of bad racing luck — time after time his mounts would fall on their heads, but they would win the next time out under another rider. Noyes gave it the big laugh, saying:

"WELL, ANYHOW, I'm giving those horses the right idea." Nixon could feel this way. Without taking any credit from the President, it's a fact that the following moves by Mr. Kennedy are more Nixon — natured and more recognizably Republican than otherwise:

1. THE PRESIDENT'S stated intention to keep the Eisenhower budget, even down to its reliance upon dubious revenues from increased postage and rising prosperity in the spring. We shall have to wait and see whether Mr. Kennedy will get what Mr. Eisenhower hoped to get — but the same words could have been written about Nixon if he'd won.

2. THE PRESIDENT'S reliance upon straight political pressure tactics in the one big fight to date — the battle to break the Dixiecrat authority of the House Rules Committee. The point was made in this place not long ago that Nixon's associations were on Capitol Hill rather than in the academies of learning, and that he would have to set up a "poll-trust" in contrast to the Kennedy brain-trust of professors.

But look what's happened! The professors are still in the trenches. The President's political shock troops have stormed and taken the Southern redoubt. Would Nixon have done it any differently? Almost certainly not.

3. THE PRESIDENT'S farm plan is still very fuzzy, but if he ends up taking the advice of his task forces, he'll have a plan more Nixon-like than his own. During the campaign, Mr. Kennedy stressed stricter controls and more costly support for crops.

Nixon was for taking large land tracts out of crops and putting them into trees and soil-building grasses — the conservation bank concept. This is just about the most constructive proposal which Mr. Kennedy's advisers have brought to him. If he acts upon it, he'll be doing what Nixon intended.

4. THE PRESIDENT'S instant attention to the question of getting an agreement on nuclear test bans. In the televised campaign debates, Mr. Kennedy said he would, if elected, make one more big try to get an international agreement — and if it failed, would resume underground testing for his side.

Mr. Nixon, with less patience and confidence toward negotiating with the Communists, said he would act much faster than that. As President, Mr. Kennedy did what he said he'd do. He set things in motion for negotiations in the spring. But he made this announcement in his first press conference, giving the matter a priority that seems a part-way approach to the Nixon method.

5. THE PRESIDENT'S use of Republicans whom Nixon would surely have used in similar posts. The star example is Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon. There is a surprising number of others. David Bruce, Allen Dulles, Llewellyn Thompson, Lauris Norstad are examples of Eisenhower retreads whom Mr. Kennedy is using — as Nixon would have done.

6. Finally, and most surprising, is the President's Inaugural Address statement which revoked the Hundred-Day crash concept. He and, more especially, Lyndon Johnson, sold this one hard in the campaign. But once in office, the President came out for the long, hard evolutionary process. It is the essence of Republican conservatism. It is the opposite of the action — always experimentation which we learned to think of as a Democratic trademark under the New and Fair Deals.

Three Questions Answered

LONDON — During a recent visit to the United States this correspondent found himself besieged by a lady wearing full war paint and armed with a king-size martini.

"What I want to know," she said, "is what do the British think about President Kennedy. Is Tony Armstrong-Jones popular over there and is Princess Margaret pregnant?"

THE LADY HAD one well-manicured hand on the pulse of America, because the same questions in one form or another were asked in the Midwest, the South, New England and New York City. An omnibus question invites generalized replies and that is pretty much what the lady got.

In this order:

KENNEDY — Yes, he is popular in Britain for many of the same reasons he is popular in the United States. Women like the hair cut and the flashing smile. Serious young men are pleased that a young man has been elected President and has surrounded himself with a relatively young cabinet.

But the broad base of his popularity is not that he is John F. Kennedy, 43 years old, but that he is a Democrat. By some whim of history Britain in her blackest hours has been rescued by Democratic Presidents — Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry Truman.

A Republican President probably would have responded just as quickly to distress signals, but it is an historical fact that the British are indebted to and grateful to the Democrats.

TONY ARMSTRONG-JONES — Yea and nay. He is extremely popular with the masses (he got a film star welcome from street crowds when he showed up for the first day on his new job). With the upper classes it's a different story. This correspondent has heard him denounced as an absent-minded young man who made a serious mistake when he neglected to be born into a European royal family or upper-crust British aristocracy.

The story of Cinderella is supposed to be the greatest fiction plot ever invented, and such diverse talents as Horatio Alger (rags to riches) and George Bernard Shaw (Liza Doolittle of Pygmalion and My Fair Lady) have not hesitated to use it.

To the British masses the career of Armstrong-Jones is a true life retelling of the story. The boy from Pimlico Road marries the beautiful princess and, his admirers hope, lives happily ever after.

PRINCESS MARGARET — Don't know. If she is pregnant, it is a secret held by a small circle consisting of Queen Elizabeth, Prince Philip, Armstrong-Jones, Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother and some unidentified but eminent obstetrician.

There was a flurry of excitement some weeks back when the princess appeared in a loose evening wrap, but two nights later she confounded the prophets of motherhood by wearing tightly belted evening gown. The one solid piece of information in the haystack of gossip and speculation came from a person close enough to the royal family to know what he is talking about.

He said Margaret had told the Queen that she would prefer not to have children for the first year or two of her marriage. Later, yes. If and when it happens the news will be broken in some such announcement as this: "Her royal highness Princess Margaret, Mrs. Antony Armstrong-Jones, will not undertake any public engagements for the next several months."

The lady of the martini has been promised that if anything develops before then she will be promptly informed. And so will you.

Tomorrow we turn the other cheek And don't snap back, it's Brotherhood Week.

Starting February 19, the world is supposed to observe Brotherhood Week — practice living peacefully with ourselves and with our neighbors.

LOOKING OVER the front pages of the newspapers, seems to me that if we ever needed Brotherhood Week, this is the time.

I've already cast up my list for Brotherhood Week.

Like, for instance, refrain from shouting uncouth remarks to motorists who do fool things conducive to bashed fenders or a total wreck. Well, maybe, I'll continue to whisper them hoping they are lip readers.

THEN, NEXT WEEK I am not going to mutter imprecations when a stout woman gives me a shoulder block just as I am about to settle in the only vacant chair on the Santa Anita terrace — and takes it herself.

The biggest item of all is that I am going to recognize the fact that advertising salesmen are human beings, too.

I'VE BEEN GETTING by for a half century on the newsdesk of publications and one of the first things I was told that there is a continuing feud between the newsroom and the ad boys and girls. There is no co-existence, I was informed.

In fact, in two newsrooms in which I have worked there was a white line painted across the door sill of the newsroom and ad men were defied to try and step across it.

BUT NEXT WEEK I am going to like them all, Art, Jim, Paul, Charles, Lee. I always did like Ruth.

I think that covers the display department. We're growing so fast that there may be two or three new ones added since the last time I checked.

Liking the classified ad department is no problem. It is full up with girls, all pretty. And besides this is Brotherhood Week. Mea only, maybe.

ANYWAY, Brotherhood Week is a grand idea and if all motorists adopted it the turmoil on the streets and highways would be eliminated.

Instead of that guy who cut in on you or tried to come into a parking space frontward while you were backing in, being an unprintable word, remember, he's a brother.

But I bet it doesn't work.

THAT RESOLUTION about being nice to the stout woman who gives me the elbow at Santa Anita will hold, up. I do not intend to be there again until the end of the month. Brotherhood Week will be memory then.

As for the other good resolutions, after Saturday, Feb. 25, they're off.

A feed store, says the Times-Press of Hartford, Wis., is the only place left where you can get a chicken dinner for a dime.

Vegas Trip Cancelled

United Press International WASHINGTON — When we think of mathematicians, we tend to be influenced by the Einstein image.

We visualize a brainy type ensconced in some ivory tower, where he sits around all day puffing reflectively on a curved-stemmed slide rule and meditating upon the square root of infinity.

THIS WAS THE concept I carried with me into one of the sessions of the American Mathematical Society.

It was a session on "statistics and probability" and the room was crowded with learned individuals whose collective brain power would light up a city the size of Reno, Nev.

Ordinarily, the assumption would be that they were there to soak up more information about multivariate, correlation, the Shannon-McMillan theorem and other tricks of the trade.

BUT I SUSPECT that most of them were there for the same reason that I was. And I, whose mathematical range is bounded by a rather dilatory exposure to freshman algebra, was there to hear Dr. Edward O. Thorp.

Until this week, Thorp was an obscure instructor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Then the word got around that he was going to read a paper to the society outlining a system he had devised for winning at blackjack.

Almost overnight, Thorp's name became a household word in every cultural center from Las Vegas to Monte Carlo. For the past few days, he has been besieged by persons whose intellectual curiosity had been stimulated and who wanted to know how the system worked.

HE ALSO HAS been contacted by a number of philanthropists, who have offered to underwrite an expedition to Las Vegas, where the proper equipment can be found to test the system under laboratory conditions.

The mathematical society, I'm sure, is gratified by this sudden blossoming of popular interest in higher education. It shows that a large segment of the American public hungers for knowledge.

THORP'S COLLEAGUES in the society also must have found his paper challenging, judging from the questions they asked after he read it and from the way they rushed up to grab copies of it.

To me, however, the paper was disappointing because I was unable to master its complexities. I have, therefore, cancelled my own plans for a scholarly pilgrimage to Las Vegas.

Besides that, I fear all the publicity has spoiled chances of testing Thorp's system under optimum conditions. The first guy who enters a casino lugging an IBM machine is bound to arouse suspicions.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: "Cold wives" are often the subject of discussion in your column, but I don't recall having seen any mention of "cold husbands." I am interested in this subject because I am married to one.

My husband was very affectionate when we were first married. Now, only three years later, he pulls away from me the moment I make a gesture of affection. He says I am still very attractive and there is nothing wrong with me. (I know this is true.) I am certain other wives must be faced with this problem. What do you advise?

"WARM WIFE"

DEAR "WARM": If, by your husband's own admission, there is nothing wrong with YOU, then there is obviously something wrong with HIM. Send him to a physician to find out why you don't "send him" any more.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem that is very serious to me. I am ten years old and I am cute, and I mean real cute. My mother won't let me date and I am asked out by 7th and 8th graders all the time. Don't you think if the boys think I am old enough to date, my mother should let me?

MATURE TEN

DEAR MATURE: Trust your mother's judgment, Honey. Little girls who start dating at 10 have nothing to look forward to at 18 but a rocking chair and a game of gin rummy.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter has a friend (her age) who makes a practice of stealing money from her father's wallet. She has stolen $20, $40 and even $50 at a time. Her father is well-to-do and apparently doesn't miss it because she has been getting away with it for a long time.

This girl admits to her friends where she gets the money. She squanders it on sweaters, jewelry and lunches for her friends. They all think it is a big joke.

We know the girl's parents, and they are the kind of people who criticize everyone else's children but think their own are perfect, so if we told them about their daughter they probably wouldn't believe us. We are afraid this girl will get into the habit of stealing elsewhere. What should we do?

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: TELL HER PARENTS!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TRIED": PERHAPS IF YOU QUIT YOUR JOB HE WOULD GO TO WORK. IT'S WORTH A TRY.

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Who pays for what? For Abby's pamphlet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50c to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

They originally started the trip with three other youths, but became separated and continued on their own. They were clad in only light cotton sweat suits they used for basketball and one was wearing tennis shoes. During the trip they encountered snow three and four feet deep.

Morgan and Maas Ink L.A. Angel Contracts

Tom Morgan and Duke Maas, two veteran pitchers on whom manager Bill Rigney is counting on to carry the load, have returned their signed contracts to the Los Angeles American League Angels, general manager Fred Haney said Saturday.

They will be at the Polo Grounds next weekend when the club arrives in Palm Springs for spring training.

MORGAN, recently acquired by the Angels from the Minnesota Twins, and Maas, former Yankee right hander, became the 17th and 18th Angels to sign their 1961 contracts.

Morgan, 30, is a veteran of three World Series with the Yankees, 1951, 55 and 56. He had an 0-1 record in series play. He is a native of El Monte and a resident of San Pedro.

The 6-2, 195 pound hurler, was 4-5 last year with Detroit and Washington, the latter now the Twins.

MAAS, ALSO a right hander, played in the Series with the Yanks in 1938 and last year. He had no decisions in the classic. Used sparingly by the Yanks last year, he had a 5-1 record. He won 14 games for the Yanks in 1959.

Morgan is primarily a relief pitcher while Maas is considered a starter.

HANEY ALSO said Friday that three highly promising youngsters had signed Angel contracts.

They are pitchers Dean Chance and Bob Sprout and infielder Jim Fregosi. Sprout was acquired from Detroit and Chance from Baltimore. Fregosi was drafted from the Boston Red Sox.

They also will report here Friday.

Wills, Rakow Ink Dodger Contracts

Representatives of organizations opposed to killing of does and fawns were assured by supervisors this week that if an application is made for a doe season in the county they will be notified of a public hearing.

Supervisors last week heard a recommendation that a 300-permit antlerless deer hunt be held in the San Jacinto mountains. The request was referred to the county fish and game commission.

Appearing to protest the permit were A. H. Nightingale, Dr. J. M. Kolisch, Mrs. Thomas Raphael, and Mrs. Claude Yerkes of the local mountain area.

"Wild life is getting more scarce in the San Jacinto mountain area. We want it protected, not destroyed," said Dr. Kolisch.

Favorites Advance in Desert Net Invitational at Shadow Mountain

Delgado Provides Big Upset

Favorites advanced, with one exception, in the 10th annual Desert Invitational Tennis tournament at Shadow Mountain Club Friday as leading netters swung into action.

It was Southern California University's day over the Bruins of UCLA and the biggest upset of all was provided when Troy's Bobby Delgado defeated the favored Allen Fox of UCLA 6-4, 6-4.

LARRY NAGLER, the NCAA's singles title holder, was the only Bruin to survive the assault.

Otherwise, Troy's freshman Bill Bond defeated Roger Werksman 3-6, 6-4, 6-2 and Ramsey Earnhart SC won over Norm Perry, UCLA, 6-3, 12-10.

In the women's division, favorites won and easily reached the semi-finals today.

IN TODAY'S PLAY men will play quarter and semi finals and women semi finals with the finals in all brackets Sunday.

Nagler and Atsushi Miyaga, Japanese champion, provide the feature match today. Miyagi defeated Charles Rambeau by default Friday.

Jon Douglas, seeded number one, survived the first round with 6-1 win over Tim Carr.

KATHY CHABOT of San Diego, favorite in the women's singles, blanked Joyce Myll of Indio, local favorite, 6-0, 6-0.

John Cranston, also rated favoritism, defeated Palm Desert's William Young, 6-3, 6-3.

Pam Davis of Anaheim won over the 17-year-old English star, April O'Neil in the first round, 6-3, 6-1.

Armstrong Rated 8-5 in TV Bout

NEW YORK — Gene Ace Armstrong, spirited middleweight contender from a New Jersey gin distillery, seeks an avenging victory over British Empire champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria tonight in a fight at Madison Square Garden.

Lanky Armstrong, whose only two defeats were inflicted by Tiger, is favored at 8-5 for their third fight because of his recent improvement.

Hebert, Sullivan Tied for Lead in Tucson Tourney

TUCSON, Ariz. — The record-smashing $20,000 Tucson Open golf tournament rolled into the third round today with famous Jay Hebert and unknown Buddy Sullivan leading the parade.

They tied off today with 36-hole scores of 131 — nine under par for the distance.

But that gave them only a one-stroke lead over young Frank Boynton, Orlando, Fla., who had 132, and two over veteran Tommy Bolt, Crystal River, Fla.; Bob Wagner, Campbell, Calif.; and Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., each with 133 scores.

Hebert, the national PGA champion from Lafayette, La., and one of the country's top money winners for the past four years, had rounds of 65-66.

But Sullivan, 66-65 from Yuba City, Calif., never has won anything of note, including money. This is not exactly true, because Buddy did collect $25,000 in the Palm Springs Desert Classic last year. That was because he was in partnership with Joe Campbell, who fired an ace and collected $50,000. Campbell had to give half to Sullivan. Other than that, the California boy won only $2,313 last year.

Hebert won $36,000 last year and already has collected $5,700 this winter.

Soviet Brumel Leaps 7-3 to Defeat Thomas

NEW YORK — "He's a great jumper."

That was John Thomas' sad lament today in the wake of his second loss to young Valeri Brumel of Russia in the high jump at the New York Athletic Club indoor track games at Madison Square Garden last night.

Brumel, the 18-year-old Moscow schoolboy who shocked track observers with a jump of 7 feet, 4 1/4 inches from a first takeoff at Lenington two weeks ago, took the measure of the Boston jumping jack when he cleared 7-3 on his third try in their head-on meeting.

THOMAS, A YEAR older and four inches taller at 6-5, missed on three attempts at 7-2, and much to the dismay of a capacity crowd of 15,930 at Madison Square Garden, had to settle for 7-1. And even at that height it wasn't easy for Thomas, the first man to ever jump seven feet indoors.

He then missed three straight attempts at 7-2 while Brumel, smiling and happy to have won his first of three American meetings with Thomas, cleared 7-2 with room to spare.

Thomas, who holds the outdoor record of 7-3 1/4 and the existing indoor mark of 7-3, stood sadly by while Valeri tied his indoor standard on the third attempt. Thomas set the 7-3 record the same day Brumel went 7-4.

THE BRUMEL-THOMAS match over-shadowed world record performances by Ralph Boston in the broad jump and Wilma Rudolph, the triple Olympic gold medal winner, in the women's 60-yard sprint.

Boston, who announced only a few days ago that 26 feet was within his reach, went that mark

Of League, Taylor
High Man with 13

Palm Springs Indians again failed to make the winner's circle Friday night when they lost to Banning High's Broncs 26 to 35 in a low-scoring game. The defeat left the Tribe in the Desert Valley league cellar with no wins and eight losses.

Coach Jim Workman's patched-up Indian line - up dominated in the first two periods and led at half time 13 to 12 in a defensive game.

BANNING WENT AHEAD in the third period and routed the Indians in the final period 13-6 to win 35-26.

Tyrone Taylor was high man for the Tribe and for the game with 13 points and Carlos Reyes with five was second.

In other games Friday night, Yucaipa clinched the DVL basketball pennant with a 61-45 win over Coachella Valley, their nearest rivals.

Tinkham Starts Series on Birds At PD's School

PALM DESERT — Dr. Ernest R. Tinkham, desert life specialist, is teaching a course on "Birds of the North American Deserts" in the Palm Desert elementary school from 7 to 9:40 p.m. each Monday.

The course, which began last week with 14 enrolled, will include field trips to the watered canyons around the Coachella Valley and the Salton sea. Other areas to be studied include the Colorado, Sahuaro and Great Sonoran deserts. Local area field trips will include the Mecca duck ponds, Andreas and Palm Canyon, Thousand Palm oasis, and Snow Creek.

The class, available for audit or three hours credit, meets in the Palm Desert kindergarten room. Registrants now include members from as far west as Redlands, and southeast to Mecca.

The course is sponsored by the San Diego State College extension service.

DAVIS REVERSES POSITION

Supervisors Opposed to Pay Hike

Supervisor Norman Davis who three weeks ago strongly upheld a Grand Jury recommendation for an increase in the salaries of the supervisors, did an about-face this week, joining Supervisors Fred McCall and William Jones in voting to advise the state legislators that the board of supervisors is opposed to the recommendation to increase the salaries of its members and those of the district attorney and county auditor.

Supervisors George Berkey and Paul Anderson voted to support the increases.

THE GRAND JURY recommended that the salaries of the supervisors be increased from $8,400 per year to $12,000, that of the district attorney from $15,000 to $18,000, and that of the auditor from $9,600 to $12,500.

On a previous motion made by Jones three weeks ago, Davis voted with Berkey against opposing the raises. Anderson was absent at the time of the tie vote resulted in defeat of Jones' attempt to keep the salaries where they are.

WHEN HE VOTED Jan. 23 to support the raises Davis remarked, "On the basis of the work I've done in the few weeks I've been in office I think the taxpayers are getting more than they bargained for, for the $8,400 per year salary now paid me. It is folly to expect public servants to do the work that should be done, without proper reimbursement."

Davis was vague in expressing his reasons for changing his vote. "I voted to oppose the raises for several reasons," he said. "Our recommendation to oppose them wouldn't effect the immediate situation anyway, and with a definite decision on record I hope we can all five work toward the same goal." "It's the same old hassle," sighed Anderson, "a hassle for political advantage by making a cut desirable to the taxpayers."

NEVER... BUT NEVER... BEFORE
Has any development met a long unfilled demand for really small homes for a few month's winter living, or retirement, and yet provided the type of neighborhood and protections usually found only in expensive communities. No more need to buy costly lots or $20,000 homes for a few years in the sun. Here, only 15 minutes out on Ramon Road are 20 retired navy and airforce officers, doctors, dentists, engineers and business executives. Their homes range from $5,900 to $11,000 on 99 year leases of private land — the same sort of title as Stanford University and Irvine Estates, Balboa. Adults only. No "keeping up with the Joneses," peace, simplicity and "economy with status." 1/4 acre lots, city utilities, free TV, trees — only $12 month. Only a lease protects you against re-sale to undesirable neighbors in small homes. Save capital to build Truly a unique community. No other like it. Investigate. Drive out Ramon Road.
